Reservoir Breaks; Wall Of Water Hits Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Water at the city reservoir, ten miles west of here, had fallen six feet since midnight, according to an announcement at 8:15 o'clock by C. E. Bretz, superintendent of the water works. Although there has been no drop yet in Oklahoma City, this is believed to indicate that the crest of the flood is upon the city and that water will not go any higher.

Thompson's Hat Sure To Be Back In Ring

COLUMBUS, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—That Colonel Carl A. Thompson, of Cleveland, is a serious candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, was declared today by Harry Blair, Thompson's publicity man during the last campaign, in an interview given here today. Blair for some time has been scouring the state, presumably in Thompson's interest.

Blair says that Thompson is a candidate, insists that he did not have an even chance in the contest for the governorship last year, because of conditions over which he had no control and for which the Democrats were wholly responsible.

In Democratic circles where there is opposition to Governor Donahoe, it is understood to be a concerted move on the part of a candidate against the governor who can unite all these factions into a solid front. Many of the old time Democratic leaders are said to be back of the movement against Mr. Donahoe. Blair, opposing the governor, has mentioned a number of possible candidates to oppose him, among them being former Supreme Justice James B. Johnson, of Springfield; former Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols, of Chillicothe; Ed. Moore, of Youngstown; Ed. Myers, of Akron, who is said to be a favorite of State Chairman W. W. Durlin and former Congressman Martin L. Davey, of Kent.

Two Killed In Autos

YOUNGSTOWN, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Two persons were killed here last night in automobile accidents. Alfonso Caverly, of West Pittsburgh, a truck driver, was instantly killed when his machine ran into another truck which had been parked beside the road for repairs. Homer Smith suffered a fractured skull, which caused his death later, when an automobile in which he was riding ran into a street car. Police say that the driver of the automobile, who fled, was intoxicated.

Shot During Quarrel

CANTON, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Clarence W. Reibel, 25, was fatally wounded last night during a quarrel over financial affairs with Mrs. Anna Brechler, 45, of West Pittsburgh. Mrs. Brechler was instantly killed when she was shot in the back and died a short time later. Mrs. Brechler has been hysterical since the shooting and unable to give any correct account of the shooting. She is being held by police. Coroner T. Smith said his investigation showed that she shot in self defense. The weapon used was a pistol belonging to Mrs. Brechler. Mrs. Brechler claims, police say, that Reibel seized her during the quarrel and it was she who shot. Reibel had been arrested in the Brechler home for several years. He was a world war veteran.

Big Ha ul Of Liquor Made By Raiders

NEW YORK, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty-four prisoners were taken and $25,000 worth of bottled whiskey confiscated by police of the Westchester Station in the Bronx early today in the capture of the 75 foot cabin cruiser Mirage, off Throggs Neck in Long Island Sound.

A motor vessel, the Clarence, a fifty foot stowp, was seized off Montauk Point. She carried 500 cases of champagne, cordials and imported whiskey which Charles Cowens, held as leader of the enterprise told his captors he "paid $17,000 for Ram Row and expected to sell for $50,000. The crew of three were taken into custody with him.

The seizure of the Mirage took place while the liquor was being transferred from the boat to automobiles. Nineteen prisoners were in the first tug. Five men who arrived in a taxi cab while the authorities were counting noses also were taken into custody. As the police descended on the smugglers, the crew of the Mirage cut her drift and leaped ashore. The costly yacht, her fittings polished and paint glittering, drifted up on rocks a quarter mile distant and was badly battered.

So far, there has been no loss of life reported, but numbers of persons are believed to be imperiled. Ordered to places of safety, last night by city authorities, approximately 15,000 residents abandoned their homes in an area in the flood's path comprising 117 city blocks and are being sheltered and fed by hastily formed relief organizations.

National Guardsmen are patrolling the inundated residential sections to aid civil authorities in possible rescue work and to prevent looting. Merchants are removing their business stocks and records to places of safety. The surging waters battered through the dam embankments, despite the frantic efforts of workmen to save them by hastily erected sand-bag levees.

The west bank was torn open late last night. In a few minutes seven feet of water was pouring through, sending the river's stage to 23 feet. By midnight 300 feet of the banks had been carried away. For two hours the 23 foot depth was maintained. Then the torrent's furious attack against the east barrier was victorious and almost the full sweep of water in the dam was released, sending the river's crest to 25 feet. As doctors pressed into service by the city administration, gathered from all over the city, ambulances from every hospital and fire trucks clanged their way through congested traffic, rushing into the danger zone for refugees or dashing back from there with human cargoes of terror-stricken residents.

A cold drizzle of rain added to the confusion. The situation was later taken in hand by military and civil authorities who forced all except the needed workers off the streets. Capital Hill, a residential section in the southern end of the city, and Packington, the picking center to the southwest, are completely isolated.

COLUMBUS GROVE, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Catherine Seaman and Ruth Belch leaders in the young roller skating craze, were found dead in Ottawa yesterday on their roller skates. They made their trip in one hour and fifteen minutes. The roadway is new and of Kentucky rock. They offer to repeat the feat with any one who cares to put on the skates with them. Roller skating has taken Putnam county by storm with the advent of good roads.

Shot By Robbers

YOUNGSTOWN, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Grace Dorsey, 67, known affectionately as "Mother Dorsey," was found dead outside her home early today from bullet and knife wounds, presumably inflicted by robbers. Nicholas Dorsey, her son, told police that he was aroused by the sound of shots, and found his mother's body outside the door. He said he thought his mother had heard robbers trying to get in, and went outside to investigate, only to be shot down. Police found marks on a window indicating that an attempt had been made to jimmy it, and also found a shoe which they think may have been lost by a robber in jumping over the fence. The coroner is continuing an investigation. Mrs. Dorsey was shot three times in the neck and was stabbed in the back.

Ohio Masons Gather For Grand Communication

SPRINGFIELD, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Masons from various cities in Ohio are arriving for the 144th annual communication of the Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons of Ohio, which opens Wednesday at ten a. m., in Memorial Park. Grand Master Harry S. Johnson and Grand Secretary J. H. Bromwell, of Cincinnati, and other Grand Lodge officials and Masonic home trustees, came in yesterday and held a conference with the local general committee of which Charles E. Bachholtz, of Springfield, is chairman. They discussed particularly the plans made for the dedication of the Rickley Memorial Hospital costing more than $200,000. Wednesday afternoon, and the big parade preceding the ceremonies at the home. Grand Master Johnson, accompanied by Mr. Bachholtz and home trustees, visited the home this morning. The various committees held conferences starting at ten a. m., regarding matters to come before the Grand Lodge. Owing to the parade which forms at 1:00 p. m., the session of the Grand Lodge will adjourn promptly at 12:50 o'clock noon. Indications are that at least 8,000 Masons will be in line, and that there will be 15,000 or more visitors in Springfield Wednesday.

Five Perish In Forest Fire

MARQUETTE, MICHIGAN, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Barren attempts to penetrate the intense heat and smoke near Marquette, Mich., caused by prolonged forest fires, were made today in an effort to rescue bodies of five men believed to have died in the fire. The rescue parties were unable to get within half a mile of the spot where the bodies are believed to be. The men were sent into the heavily wooded section yesterday morning to inspect the railroad tracks of the Lake Independent Lumber Company for whom they worked. A sudden shift in the wind caused smoldering fires to burst into full life. The men were unable to escape and died from suffocation, according to belief. Shifting winds which fanned the fires into fury also brought rain and relief. During the night a long drizzle fell over most of the forest fire areas. While the rain was not enough to extinguish the fire, it helped to check them.

Not To Remove His Body

LONDON, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—In deference to English sentiment, Dr. Thorneycroft has decided to withdraw the request of Oglethorpe University that the body of General James E. Oglethorpe, founder of Georgia, be transferred to the proposed shrine on the campus of the University in Atlanta.

Politics No Longer Adjourned For Coolidge

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1923)

WASHINGTON, October 16.—Politics is no longer "adjourned" so far as attack on the administration of President Coolidge is concerned. The battle of opposing aspirants for the Republican Presidential nomination has begun. Two months having elapsed since the new President took office, the opposition in his own party has come, first, from the elements which hope to make an issue of the discontent of the farmers, and second, from the groups who believe the administration isn't sufficiently "dry" on the prohibition question.

Henry Ford's broadside of criticism against Secretary Weeks for selling the Gorgas Plant at Muncie, Ind., to the Alabama Power company, an act which President Coolidge has defended, is in line with the cry of the American farmer, who here for five-cent fertilizer which Ford operation of the nitrogen plant was to have obtained. Governor Gifford Pinchot's vehement denunciation of the policy of the Federal Administration with respect to enforcement of the prohibition laws is purely Presidential politics and partly prohibition campaigning. To understand the Pinchot speech, in which he calls on the Federal government to put down liquor surreptitious and assist states to cope with municipal problems of enforcement, is to get a clear idea also of what William Jennings Bryan is driving at when he calls on the President and the members of the Cabinet to take the pledge as "totalitarians" as an example to the Nation. One must know what is really going on in the treasury department, and in the law, to get a clear idea of what is really going on in the law.

Wetly On Trial

CLEVELAND, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—A special train carrying 500 Cleveland Masons to Springfield, Ohio, to attend the 144th annual grand communication of the Ohio Lodge and the dedication of the new Rickley Memorial Hospital, will leave here tomorrow morning. The train will make stops at Wellington and Graceton, where delegations from Oberlin, Lorain and Elgin will gather. Nearly 100,000 Masons are expected to participate in the hospital dedication tomorrow afternoon.

Says Prisoners Were Mistreated

LORAIN, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Declaring prisoners in the city jail have been forced to undergo greater suffering than prisoners in state and federal penitentiaries, City Solicitor Wesley Grills last night proposed city council action conducting a probe of jail conditions.

The city solicitor charged that prisoners were sentenced to the Lorain jail for periods of from three to five years for violating the liquor laws. Because of the wet floors, plank beds and damp conditions, the solicitor asserted, their health is ruined and there is nothing left for them to do but die from the exposure they cannot avoid.

A one-year sentence in the Lorain city jail is the same as the death sentence in any other court, Safety Director Harry Shuff said today. The council discussed the matter and adopted a resolution to conduct an immediate investigation of charges made by the solicitor and safety director.

Police Check Rush In Fierce Fighting

LONDON, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—A mob tried to force its way into the Berlin stock exchange this morning, says a Central News dispatch from the German capital. The doors were promptly closed, and the police took up the task of dealing with the throng.

The mob also tried to storm the city hall, the message states, but the police appeared in strong force and seemed to be masters of the situation after fierce fighting in which a number of persons were injured, several seriously. For the moment, adds the message, the city hall and the stock exchange have been locked and strongly guarded and the Wilhelm Strasse closed to pedestrians and vehicles.

Hungry mobs raided Berlin bakeries, and windows were broken and police disarmed. Rioting is reported in other cities.

Renewed food riots are reported from numerous points in Germany. A serious clash occurred in Mannheim, where one police sergeant and one demonstrator were killed.

Leipzig continues to be the scene of renewed rioting and many of the shopkeepers close to give away bread and discourage in preference to having their premises looted. The police are guarding the market halls, while most of the shops in the heart of the city either have cleared their show windows of all displays or shut down completely.

What Bread Costs In Germany

BERLIN, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The sudden increase in the price of the four-pound loaf of bread from thirty-four to 430,000,000 marks has caused excitement and anger among the Berlin working classes. It has also been responsible for much of the plundering of bakeries by bands of youths and women.

Floods In Texas Cause Heavy Damage

DALLAS, TEXAS, October 16.—(By the United Press)—With rains continuing steadily in many parts of Texas, floods have caused heavy damage to crops, highways and bridges in the Panhandle. Traffic has been delayed and trains are being forced to a detour. Nearly sixty bridges and trestles are reported washed out along the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad in the vicinity of Wichita Falls, where more than five inches of rain has fallen in the past few days. Residents of the Red River Valley lowlands have been warned to move all live stock in preparation for an expected record flood.

National Council Of Catholic Men Being Held In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Catholic laymen, including some of the most prominent in the country, were in Cincinnati today to attend the convention of the National Council of Catholic Men, the first meeting of its kind to be held outside of Washington. He is expected to arrive tonight or tomorrow. Among the important problems to be discussed during the sessions are Americanization and immigration, youth welfare and motion pictures, and much compelling of activities for the coming year. Arrangements also are to be made to organize Boy Scout troops throughout the country, to be affiliated with the National Scouts organization.

It was announced that special attention will be given to attacks against the Catholic religion in recent years, in addresses by both Catholics and by non-Catholics, of whom there are several on the program. The convention will conclude tomorrow night with a monster public meeting when many prominent speakers will be heard.

May Give Clue To Murder Of Desmond Taylor

SEATTLE, WASH., October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Deciphering of the cryptic pages of Arthur Correll, crippled astrologer, who last Saturday pleaded guilty to the murder of Mrs. Ethel Correll, his sister-in-law, may reveal a "strong clue" to the slayer of William Desmond Taylor, noted film director, found shot to death in his home in Los Angeles about two years ago. Luke S. May, Seattle, criminologist, announced last night.

May said the astrologist's papers included drafts of many horoscopes worked out for members of the film colony at Hollywood and that he was convinced a hidden meaning would be found under the cipher in which they were written.

The criminologist, adding a new chapter to the disclosures he has been making, charged that Correll had planned the slaying of 34 residents in the town of Bandon, Oregon, where he lived. Seven of these he said were children.

YOU'VE GOT TO TELL THE TRUTH IF YOU WANT GOVERNMENT JOB

WASHINGTON, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—You've got to tell the truth if you want a government job. This is the warning of William C. Denning, president of the United States Civil Service Commission, to would-be applicants for Federal employment. In the past year, Denning said in a statement to the commission's "barred list" or roster of those who by their own dishonesty have forfeited the right to compete in civil service examinations.

By far the majority of these approximately 700—were declared unsuitable because of false statements in their applications on such questions as age, education, experience or criminal record. Six offered bribes for Federal positions; six forged medical certificates giving themselves clean bills of health; twenty-eight were discovered cheating in the examination rooms, while two were found dishonest to the government.

But these figures, Mr. Denning added, do not reflect upon the character of civil service applicants in general, for more than 200,000 persons were examined during the year.

Auditor Drew Pay On Honeymoon, Now Trying To Deprive Clerk Of Two Days' Pay

—SAYS SAFETY DIRECTOR

"The inconsistency of some people is really appalling," Safety Director St. Straus said this morning, after he had learned that City Auditor Earl Chandler had held up two days' pay coming to Assessment Clerk Leo D. Krickler on the ground that he was not in the city on those days.

"When Mr. Chandler was on his recent honeymoon the records in his office will show that he drew his pay just as if he were on the job. Now, if he can be away two weeks and draw his regular salary, why is he small enough to try to deprive Mr. Krickler of two days' pay just because he happened to be out of the city two days? Yes, the consistency of some people, who think, yes, think they are fooling the public."

Mr. Chandler's letter to Service Director W. E. Cook on the Krickler matter follows:

Director of Public Service.

Dear Sir:

On June 27, 1923, the Council passed an ordinance No. 3278, creating the position of assessment clerk in the Engineer's Department of the City of Portsmouth, at a salary of $8.00 per day.

I find that under the pay-roll approved as of Oct. 15, 1923, your department has vouchered to this office for payment a pay-roll as follows: Leo D. Krickler, assessment clerk, working on October 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15 of this month.

Upon investigation I find that upon Wednesday and Thursday of last week Mr. Krickler was attending a convention at Dayton, Ohio, and was not in the employ of the City. Therefore this pay-roll cannot be paid as the ordinance creating this position does not provide for payment only when working.

Hoping that you will take care of this matter immediately, I am,

Yours respectfully,

J. EARL CHANDLER,
City Auditor.

Pinchot Says He Is Fond Of Allen And Enjoys His Talks

HARRISBURG, PA., October 16.—(By the Associated Press).—The address of Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, in Washington last night, in which he took issue with the suggestion of Governor Pinchot that the president take charge of prohibition enforcement today brought a reply from the Pennsylvania executive declaring the Kansan wants him to forget there are federal and state courts in Pennsylvania and that he will not do this.

Mr. Allen's address was delivered at a meeting of delegates of the citizenship conference to which Mr. Pinchot presented his ideas on prohibition enforcement in a speech on Sunday. The former governor of Kansas has expressed the belief it was Pennsylvania's duty first to exhaust its own resources in enforcement before "bringing the problem to the door step of the White House."

"We have all heard Henry warble before," Governor Pinchot said. "It evidently slipped his mind that the nation alone can prevent smuggling or issue permits to manufacture or release any liquid containing alcohol and that the eighteenth amendment makes the nation and the states share the responsibility for enforcement."

"Henry wants to forget there are federal and state courts in Pennsylvania which I will not do. He is hot for the mailed fist in my state. I seem to remember a less martial attitude on his part when William Allen White put a sign up in his window and told Henry, then governor of Kansas, to come and take it down. I am very fond of Henry and I always enjoy his talks."

Will Demonstrate Scout Work Before Ironton Council

Several Portsmouth Boy Scouts will be taken to Ironton next Saturday to give a demonstration of Scout work. They have been invited by the Ironton Council to take part in an affair which they are going to have on that day. Mr. Leonard, who is the new Scout Executive at Ironton, is putting on this event in conjunction with the football game between the two high schools. The Portsmouth Scouts will leave Saturday morning and make an all-day trip, returning after the game. The party will go to Beechwood Park and cook their dinner there and spend the time in activities as they see fit. Demonstrations will be given in the following: First aid, signalling, fire-arms, life and safety, firebuilding and cooking, and bagging. This exhibition will be put on between halves of the game, and afterwards the Portsmouth Scouts will participate in a winter roast, which will be put on by the Ironton Scouts.

Poisoned By Moonshine

Chilton Carl Nichols is a patient in Schirman hospital, where he is recovering from the effects of moonshine poisoning. Nichols, who is well known in the West End, was removed to the hospital Monday in the Emrick Company's invalid car from his home on Hick Road, back of Wheelersburg. Monday evening his condition was dangerous and little hopes were held for his recovery, but early Tuesday morning he took a change for the better and this afternoon his condition was such that it was thought he was now out of danger.

Relatives of Nichols, who is about 28 years of age, and married, were endeavoring to learn the source of his supply of moonshine last night. Later they learned that a friend had obtained a bottle for him from a West End man on his own suggestion that a drink might help him. He had been seriously ill with a cold and on October 7 took several drinks of moonshine. Several of his friends took drinks from the same bottle, but they were not poisoned. It is thought that the young man's condition at the time, due to his illness, made him more susceptible to the poisoning. His condition did not become serious until several days ago.

When relatives learned that Nichols had been given the moonshine at his own request and that others did not become poisoned when drinking from the same bottle and that his condition was improving, they decided not to press charges against the young man who obtained the moonshine in Portsmouth for Nichols.

Additional Streets Named In Micklethwait Injunction Suit

An amended petition to the injunction suit instituted in Common Pleas Court a week ago by Joseph T. Micklethwait, as a taxpayer, to prevent the city of Portsmouth and The Andrews Asphalt Paving Company, of Hamilton, Ohio, from entering into contracts awarded providing for the paving of certain streets on the Hilltop with sheet asphalt, was filed yesterday through Attorneys Miller & Searl, seeking to include the carrying out of contracts awarded for the improvement of four additional streets with the same material.

The streets named in the amended petition are: Fourth street from the west line of Brown street west 652 feet Third street, from the west line of Brown street, west 700 feet; Jackson avenue through Rose Ridge allotments Nos. 1 and 2; and Summit streets from Twentieth to Twenty-first street.

Big Fox Chase Is On

Close to a hundred fox hunters and dog fanciers were present Monday, when the annual bench show was held yesterday at the Stockham farm on the Little Scioto River back of Sciotoville, the show being the opening of a several days' program under the auspices of the Scioto Valley Fox-Hunters' Association. Fifty dogs were exhibited yesterday.

To-day the start was made in the Derby race, which will determine the champion dog of the 20 months and under class. The winners to-day will be registered in pairs and the elimination will continue until the champion is selected. The dogs' trailing ability and endurance are being tested.

When the Derby is completed, the free for all will be run. The meeting is expected to last through the week, and a number of out of town visitors are here with dogs for the occasion.

Winners in yesterday's bench show were: first to Firman Gilliland's entry "Berry" and second to Will Lewis' entry. Clyde Rice took premier honors among the bitches for one of his entries, with second honors going to Charles Koger, of New Boston. Silver cups were awarded the winners, and dog collars as second prizes. Probate Judge N. B. Gilliland had one of the six best dogs from which the winning dog was selected, but his big red pointer was eliminated in the final pointing.

The Scioto Valley Association is affiliated with the American Kennel Club and winners in this week's field trials will be accredited with points toward championships.

Jenkins Nabbed At Greenup; Admits He Stole Mare Here

Sheriff Harry M. Dunham and Deputy Edna Carter went to Greenup to return to Portsmouth Melvin Jenkins, well-known police character and notorious thief, who was apprehended and landed in the Greenup Jail early this morning in connection with the theft of Frank Seymour's "The engine, which was stolen from the Seymour barn sometime Sunday night, was not recovered, according to word received by local officers.

Jenkins has been in trouble many times before and served time in the penitentiary in connection with the wholesale theft of bicycles in this city a few years ago.

He was arrested last night near Greenup by Jailer William Dary and son David. Jenkins steadfastly refused to tell what he did with the animal, it not being in his possession when arrested. He admitted stealing the horse, Jailer Dary says.

Negroes Testify In Stokes Case; Not Sure Of Stories

NEW YORK, October 16.—(By the Associated Press).—The third of three negro witnesses called by W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel proprietor, to swear they saw his wife either in or entering the Manhattan apartment of Edgar Wallace, chief co-respondent in re-hearing of the divorce suit against Mrs. Stokes, will be cross-examined today by Samuel Untermyer who succeeded yesterday in shaking the testimony of the first witness.

Each of these witnesses had been employed in the apartment house in which Wallace rented rooms.

Joseph Thornton, the janitor, affirmed under direct examination by Max Steuer, counsel for Stokes, having seen Mrs. Stokes visiting the Wallace apartment "at least half a dozen times."

When Mr. Untermyer cross-examined him, he first admitted "trouble" and then would not swear Mrs. Stokes was the woman he saw. Agatha Byers, who gave testimony in the previous hearing of the suit, swore beyond the shadow of a doubt she had seen Mrs. Stokes in the apartment when she brought tea there from a tea-room in the building, but lost her memory when Mr. Untermyer questioned her.

"Who was in the apartment?" she asked.

"I don't remember," she replied.

Anna McIntosh, the third witness, said she served as a substitute nurse to Wallace twice, once in 1914 and again in 1917. She said she saw Mrs. Stokes in the apartment on her testimony will be continued today.

The Big Topic Of The Day In A Picture That Is A Sensational Exposition Of Fact

Is Spiritualism A Fake? Can The Dead Communicate With The Living?

Are There Spirits? Did You Ever See One?

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, a very distinguished Englishman, says this life is merely the vestibule for the hereafter; that we take up life in the next world just where we leave it off here; that he is in constant communication with those who have passed on; and that their message is one of hope and encouragement to mankind. Sir Arthur is honest in his beliefs; there are others who are not, who seek to profit from the tears of the bereaved. This great two reel picture shows us the fakers and the crooks who seek to commercialize Spiritualism.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with "twofold" action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, reaches the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Revival Closes; Is Big Success

Rev. Lawrence Tucker, the sixteen year old boy evangelist from Springfield, Ohio, has just completed a successful three weeks stay at the Pleasant Green Baptist church on Findlay street. Though the lad has been preaching the Gospel for little more than six months, he is making a great success of his work. During his stay here, he talked before large gatherings each night and was the cause of ninety-five conversions to the Baptist faith.

The lad's phenomenal success as an evangelist is due, he says, to prayer. He possesses a rich voice, speaks clearly and distinctly, and tells the simple story of the Gospel in a straightforward manner.

Rev. Tucker will leave here this week for Cincinnati, where he will preach for several weeks, after which he will go to Bluefield, W. Va.

While in this city he was the guest of Rev. B. R. Reed and family of Findlay street.

Keep Your Parking Lights Burning

Chief J. S. Dietel has issued a warning to motorists in respect to the dangerous practice of leaving automobiles parked in the streets at night without tail or parking lights showing.

"Such violations of the traffic ordinance will be prosecuted in the future," the Chief declared in issuing his edict, asserting that he was moved to this action by many complaints received of the parking of machines without displaying proper signals at night, and as a safety measure to protect both the motorist and the public.

Rev. Hugh I. Evans Tenders Resignation Has Accepted Call To Dayton, O., Church

Rev. Hugh I. Evans, pastor of Second Presbyterian church, who recently received a call to the Westminister Presbyterian church at Dayton, has tendered his resignation, effective November 30, to the local congregation in order to accept the call to the Dayton church. A special meeting of the Second Church congregation will be held October 21 to vote upon the resignation.

Rev. Evans' letter accepting the call was read in the Dayton church Sunday about the same time he made the announcement here that he was resigning. He will have the honor of directing the building of a new church in the Gen. City.

Sunday after reviewing his work here Rev. Evans said: "Unthought and without knowledge on my part, a congregation of great magnitude, seeking church consecution and with the prospect of completing the wedding together of two congregations, was persistently turning toward me. I have never been inside that church. I have never stood in its pulpit. Yet an over-convincing sense of the divineness of their appeal forces me to recognize it as a call of God.

"In accepting this call, I am moved by impulses which I consider unselfish. A consideration of a difference in salary is counter-balanced by the increased strain upon my physical and mental strength. The demands and sacrifices which will be mine will cost me more than any material remuneration that may come to me. I am turning toward a hard task. I shall burn up energy and strength which I must, a congregation of great magnitude, seeking church consecution and with the prospect of completing the wedding together of two congregations, was persistently turning toward me. I have never been inside that church. I have never stood in its pulpit. Yet an over-convincing sense of the divineness of their appeal forces me to recognize it as a call of God.

years' and obedient to a compelling and irresistible call of duty. I have by tender my resignation as Pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Portsmouth, Ohio, to take effect on November 30, 1923."

Came Here Two Years Ago. Rev. Mr. Evans came to Portsmouth two years ago this fall from Mayville, succeeding Dr. George P. Horst as pastor of Second Church. During Mr. Evans' pastorate Second Church has continued steady growth, and ranks among the largest Presbyterian Churches in the Synod of Ohio.

Mr. Evans is chairman of the committee on Home Missions and a member of the Evangelical committee on Portsmouth Presbytery. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and is active in other Portsmouth organizations. He was chairman of the arrangements committee for the recent annual meeting of the Synod of Ohio, the sovereign court of the Presbyterian church in this state, which met in Portsmouth last week.

Rev. William Gleisner, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will moderate the meeting of Second church congregation a week from Wednesday.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

6-1/2 ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It truly astonishes how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Claims McDermott Played Creditable Game

Sporting Editor Times: McDermott, Oct. 10—For the information of the public, two articles appearing in Monday's Times concerning the Hays Motor-McDermott game were not wholly correct. The articles would lead one to believe the McDermott boys looked like dubs. True enough they lost to the time of 8 to 2 and they have no allis to offer for their defeat. However, they played an exceptionally good brand of ball and, but for a couple of miscues by one infielder their fielding was perfect. They succeeded in getting over men on bases than their more experienced opponents, but lacked the punch when his meant runs. Time after time the opposing pitcher was "in the hole" and McDermott lost many chances to score runs because his men would smother the ball straight at some waiting fielder. McDermott frankly admits that the Hays Motor is the better team, but when it is considered that their club is composed entirely of professional and semi-pro players, while the McDermott team consists only of amateurs, any unbiased person who witnessed the game will tell that the McDermott boys offered real opposition and gave a very creditable account of themselves. ORIEL BY BRENTANOS - G. 122. BY THE RIDEWAY COMPANY.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Hope Ranger is abducted and her father, Loring Ranger, offers a reward of one hundred thousand dollars for his daughter's return. Receiving a letter from the abductors, Ranger deposits a hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds in a specified place according to instructions.

Juarez Charlie, adventurer, is a warm friend of Ranger. He goes on a quiet hunt for Hope.

Following a clue given by a girl, Charlie rides toward the Bristow sanitarium on his motorcycle. He comes across Hope and Dr. Kelsey, who have escaped from the sanitarium, in Dr. Bristow's car.

The car is wrecked and Kelsey is injured. Charlie rides for a physician and Hope and Kelsey hide in an abandoned house belonging to Hope's father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Well they're not in the attic nor yet on this floor; we know that," said a voice. "And Kelly and Weeks don't seem to have had any better luck downstairs and in the cellar."

The sound of their voices grew fainter. Then they heard other voices raised in argument in the hall downstairs. There was more movement, and finally the banging of the front door. The men were gone.

Hope and Kelsey waited in that unbroken silence for a long time; some one might have been left behind, might even be in the room. At last, careful not to make the least noise, she slid back the panel and looked out.

She made small, rustling noises opening the door.

"Good thing I brought a knife. I'm a wise, old campaigner." She stifled her laughter. "Oh, it's hard to spread jam in the dark. Give me your hand."

Their fingers touched, and she laid a cracker in his palm. "I've never tasted anything quite so good," he affirmed.

"Nor I. The crackers are musty, but it improves the flavor." "You were wonderful to think of them. But you always are the most wonderful boy."

He caught her, and held her to him crushingly. "You're safe—still safe. What a night!" He buried his face in her hair. "But they haven't got you. If they do, they'll have to kill me first."

Her arms were about his neck, her cheek against his. "I almost killed you with that car," she said. "If I had, I shouldn't have cared if they had taken me." She ran her light fingers over his eyes. "His dear, broken head," she said tenderly.

"Oh!" She drew back with a sudden recollection. "That envelope those men gave us."

She struck a match. The light made them blink. He ripped open the envelope.

"Liberty bonds!" with a gasp. "A bunch of them."

She struck another match, and held it until it burned her fingers.

"An even hundred thousand dollars," he said in an awed tone. "Ten bonds of ten thousand apiece."

"A hundred thousand!" She clutched his shoulder. "Why, that's my ransom. It must be it."

"We're going to get out of here," he said stoutly. "They'll be searching the woods for a while yet, but they'll get tired of that. Then will be our chance to slip out. Are you sleepy?"

"No; I'm too excited." "Well, I am. No sleep for two nights and this crack over my head. Here, take my watch, and wake me at the end of an hour. Then you must sleep for the same time. We'll need clear heads and all our strength, once we get started."

"Let me see the time." She struck another match. "It's just eleven o'clock. I'll wake you promptly at twelve. Now go by."

Kelsey stretched himself out, and she slipped a cushion under his head. Almost at once he was asleep.

CHAPTER XX

Hope was in the cramped dark space beside the sleeper, her chin on her drawn-up knees, her hands clasped about them, listening to his slow, regular breathing.

She drew out the watch and glanced at its unlit dial. Only ten minutes after eleven.

She resumed her musings. Just when she became conscious of the approach of a motor, she could not tell.

She debated a moment whether to wake Kelsey, but, deciding to make sure first that an actual danger threatened them, she softly pushed back the panel and slipped out into the room and over to the window.

The car, a speedy roadster containing two men, whirled in at the gate and, up the weed-grown drive, and stopped with a grinding of the brakes almost directly beneath her.

Out from the shadow of the porch came a man and walked toward Kelsey's prudence in not leaving their retreat too soon was justified. The searchers had left some one on guard.

The driver of the car jumped out to meet him; and as they moved forward into the glare of the headlights, Hope slunk back trembling. The figure in the long, light motorcoat was Bristow.

Never taking her eyes off them, and with infinite pains, Hope untied the window and raised the lower sash a fraction. By a miracle it lifted easily, and without a squeak. Kneeling on the floor, she laid her ear close to the sill. The voices floated up to her distinctly.

"No doubt about their having given you boneheads the slip," Bristow was saying. He did not raise his voice nor storm, but the man clung at his tone. "You're sure, they didn't get into the house?"

"I don't see how they could have. We went over it with a fine-tooth comb."

"Then it's no use spending further time here. You say the woods have been down in the woods for an hour? That ought to be long enough to look matter every stump. Call them in."

The man drew a whistle from his pocket and blew piercingly on it.

Bristow was tramping up and down the drive below. She saw him stop short and turn his head toward the road in the direction opposite to that which he himself had come.

She caught at the meaning of the thrumming of another motor.

"Who's that?" Bristow exclaimed.

"He had not long to wait for his answer. The car, a physician's runabout, turned in at the gate and drove up. A thin, elderly man got out and stepped toward Bristow.

A THIN, ELDERLY MAN GOT OUT AND STEPPED TOWARD BRISTOW.

"Ah, Dr. Creamer, you?" Bristow reverted to his more suave and courteous manner, although there was interrogation in his tone.

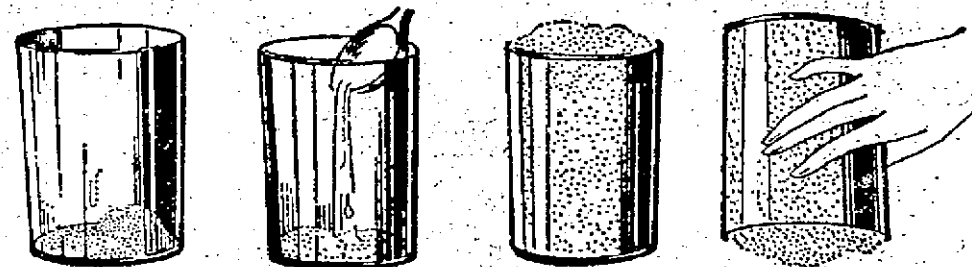

"I see you got ahead of me," said the other. "Was it a serious injury?"

"Injury?" Bristow stared at him. "I don't know what you're talking about. I'm out after two runaway patients."

"So?" Creamer clicked his

DAVIS will make this test!

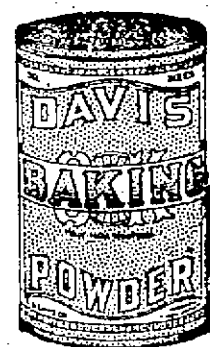

The only purpose in using baking powder is to leaven food. Proper leavening depends on the strength of the baking powder. You can test the raising strength of Davis this way:

- 1 Place a heaping teaspoonful of Davis Baking Powder in a glass.
- 2 Add three teaspoonfuls of cold water, stir quickly and remove spoon.
- 3 Allow to stand two minutes and watch results, showing raising strength.
- 4 Turn glass upside down—if test is made correctly, contents will not fall out.

This is only a test. When using baking powder, always sift together flour, baking powder and salt, mixing thoroughly, always dry—in the usual way.

This simple test will prove to you the superior raising strength of Davis Baking Powder, and that you may use it with full confidence that your bakings will always come out right.

tongue commiseratingly. "But I got a call to come out here to an automobile accident. I was away from my office at the time." His voice like himself was rather mild and vague.

"Oh, I see," Bristow nodded. "That must have been my two patients. They took my car and made kindling-wood of it just the other side of the 'hedge' there. But," abruptly, "who gave you word of this accident, Doctor?"

"Well, that was the funny part of it. Creamer began in his slow way. 'I was out on a call, and when I got back my wife told me that Tom Simonds, the garage man, had been trying to get me. I called Tom up, and he said that about ten o'clock some fellow on a motor-cycle had come dashing up to his place and wanted to know how to get to the nearest doctor, saying there had been a terrible accident out this way—car overturned with a man and a woman in it, the woman apparently not hurt but the man either dead or dying.'"

"Did Simonds know this man on the motor-cycle?" Bristow interjected.

"That's the joke I was just coming to. Tom, it seems, had been talking over the wire to his brother. He had two minutes before, you remember Ben, Doctor; moved away and started a garage up in Westchester County. Well, he had been swindled earlier in the evening by a slick stranger that came along and sold him an imitation mechanical pump. He gave Tom a description of the clump, and asked him to look out for him if he ever happened to come this way. And, sir, Tom had hardly got through talking to him and rung off, when in popped the identical fellow with this story of the accident."

"Tom's a deputy sheriff, you know, and he walked Mr. Swindler right over to the calaboose. He wasn't inclined to take much stock in anything the fellow said, but the man was so persistent about this accident, that he finally telephoned to me."

"When I got my frown birds, I may drop over and have a talk with the fellow. At present I'm too busy directing the search. We tracked them to the point where they had overturned the car, but since then they seem to have vanished into the air. It's certain they're not in the house, and we've been going through the woods for over an hour without any results."

"Look here, Doctor," Creamer laid his hand on Bristow's arm. "Wasn't it from the Rose heirs that Loring Ranger bought this property? I've got a sort of a dim recollection of a story I heard when I first started in practice here, that one of the Rose houses was built with a secret hiding-place in it for escape from the Indians."

"What?" Bristow's voice was like the clang of steel on iron.

"You see," he explained to Creamer, "I've got to get those two without loss of time. This woman is a sister of my head nurse, Miss Cooter. She's in a terrible state about the girl. The man is dangerous—marked homicidal mania. He made a murder-

Hope knelt at the window frozen into immobility.

EVERSHARP is matched by WAHL PEN and nothing else!

EVERSHARP is a basically correct mechanical pencil. Its construction is simple. There is no complex mechanism to get out of order. Therefore, it works perfectly. Carry two—one filled with the new colored lead.

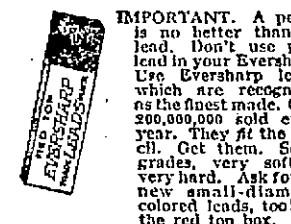

No other pencil can give you Eversharp service—for Eversharp pencils can't be copied. The exclusive rifled tip prevents the lead from wobbling. The automatic index tells the length of lead in the barrel. Pull off the cap, and you find an eraser; unscrew the cap, and there is a magazine well filled with leads—an ingenious arrangement.

The worthy companion of Eversharp is the all-metal Wahl Pen. It is a great fountain pen improvement. It can neither crack nor break. It will not wear out in a lifetime. And it holds considerably more ink.

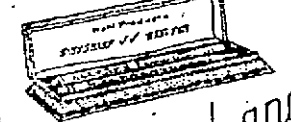

Eversharp and Wahl Pen are matched in exquisite designs, and are made in gold and silver. Wahl Pen, $1 to $10; Eversharp, $1 to $10—higher, of course, for solid gold. Buy both, and look for the name on each. See also the Wahl rubber pens, $2.50 up.

MADE IN THE U. S. A. BY THE WAHL CO., CHICAGO

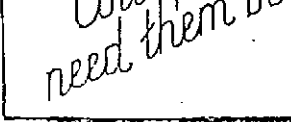

EVERSHARP matched by WAHL PEN

IMPORTANT. A pencil is not a pencil until it has lead. Don't use poor lead. Buy Eversharp. Eversharp pencils, which are recognized as the finest made, over 200,000,000 sold every year. They fit the pencil, and are smooth, even grades, very soft to very hard. Ask for the new small, color-coded leads, too! In the red top box.

In school and College you need them both!

Goebel In Hospital

PIKETON, Ohio, October 15.—Samuel Cooper, of this town, is claiming the champion potato yield of Ohio.

In the spring Cooper plowed an acre and a half of ground that had not been broken for twelve years. It became a part of an old orchard.

He planted five bushels of Chicago market and five bushels of Seneca potatoes. The Seneca Beauties yielded 100 bushels or 20 bushels for each bushel planted. The Chicago market yielded 125 bushels or 25 bushels for each bushel planted.

SOCIETY

The engagement of Miss Alice McClave and Mr. Wadsworth R. Run was announced at a party given recently at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hull on Gallia avenue.

The affair took the form of a miscellaneous shower for the charming bride-elect and she received many pretty and useful gifts for her new home. The evening was spent in dainty needlework and various forms of amusements, and at an appropriate hour the guests were served with a fello and white refreshment course. The table was beautifully appointed with cupids and hearts and centered with a miniature well, in which were concealed the announcements. Each guest was asked to draw a card from the well, and inscribed upon it were the words "McClave-Run, October 1923."

Miss McClave is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude McClave of Edgmont, Ky., but has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Charles R. Warnock of Summit street, for the past few years. ANNIVERSARY SALE

Sale Starts Wednesday Morning Ends Saturday Night October 20th

It is just thirteen years ago that we opened our little store at the corner of Gallia and Gay streets, in the room now occupied by the Fashion. With a modest capital and plenty of ambition we started our little business, catering to all the community, trusting in honest business methods, fair dealing and an earnest desire to serve our patrons to the best of our ability. We are indeed most grateful to the people of Portsmouth and vicinity who have contributed to what success we have attained. Losing everything in the disastrous flood of 1913 and again suffering a heavy loss by fire in April of this year, yet we are proudly holding our place in the business community of Portsmouth and looking forward with the most optimistic feelings toward the future. To prove our gratitude for the patronage we have received we are holding this Anniversary Sale. We will offer real values in dependable merchandise and will also take advantage of the opportunity to introduce an entirely new stock of clean, up-to-date, honest merchandise, marked at the lowest possible prices. We invite your inspection of the greatest assortment of merchandise we have ever been able to offer. Attend this sale and share in the bargain values we offer. Sale starts Wednesday morning at 8:30 and ends Saturday night, October 20th.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

who can blow out a candle at the first attempt when blindfolded, turned and twisted and finally led within arm's length of the lighted candle and told to blow. Then there is pinning the tail on the donkey, a game familiar and one sure to be enjoyed. Another game which is very confusing is "hands." In this all girls stand behind a sheet or cover of some kind and thrust their hands through. The boys are led up one by one in front of the sheet and told to guess to whom each pair of hands belong. After all the boys have had a chance they stand behind the sheet and it is the girls' turn to do the guessing. To the one making the largest number of correct guesses, goes the prize. It is very hard to recognize hands when they are so placed. Extra confusion may be added by having the tall girls stoop so that their hands will come out in places quite different from where expected.

A very enjoyable sort of entertainment is to have a costume party. Send invitations bearing inscription something like this: "Sister (or brother) haste to the Witches' Revel, Halloween night, to be held in the hut of Witch So and So, Street such and such. Only witches need be invited. Light the house with red shaded lamps, let the decorations be brooms and black cats. For refreshments serve pumpkin pie and coffee or doughnuts and coffee. Decorate also with autumn leaves, pumpkins, and stalks of corn. These may be dyed yellow and black paper decorations. All kinds of Halloween novelties can be purchased at one of the local book stores.

P. S.—The above are all the Halloween games I know of, so those who intend to give a party had better clip them out. They will not be published a second time.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 16 and my parents will not let me have boys call on me. Now Dolly, what would you do about this matter. I think I am able to take care of myself and when other girls my age have callers I think I should be allowed the same privilege. The boy I have been going with is mad at me now just because I am not allowed to have him come to the house. What would you do about it?

SWEET SIXTEEN

You will have to settle the matter of having boy callers with your parents. If they object the only thing to do is to tell him that your parents consider you too young to keep steady company.

Dear Dolly—Is it true that it rains half of the time, and is dry the other half of the time out in California? I heard that they just had two seasons a wet and a dry one. I was thinking of local there, but I would hate to live in a climate like that. Can you enlighten me any on this wet and dry season?

WANT-TO-KNOW.

Throughout California there is a well defined wet season in the winter months, and an equally well-defined dry season in the summer. Most of the Northern part of the state receives sufficient rainfall to mature crops if it were distributed throughout the year, but the growing crops in the late summer require irrigation. On the other hand most of the southern part of the state receives less moisture than is usually considered necessary for crop growing, but the concentration of the year's precipitation in the winter and spring makes it possible to mature crops where it would not be possible were the rainfall evenly distributed throughout the year. If you want to go to California, don't let the wet and dry season bother you.

Dear Dolly—I was just wondering how much a 1000 Kronen Bank note would be in American money and how long it would take to cash.

TIMES READER.

I imagine your banker could tell you if the note was worth anything, and where you could get it cashed.

MISTER DODGER'S POEM

And as luck would have it, they caught a whale.

MISTER DODGER wrote this poem and read it to Nancy and Nick in his corn-shock house in Sweeney-Moo Land:

Said the guinea-pig to the guinea-hen, "I haven't been away in I don't know what time."

Said the guinea-hen to the guinea-pig, "Why, that's just because you are not very big."

So you get your coat and I'll get my hat, And we'll both go and see where the king lives at."

So off they went in a ten-cent bus, With plenty of feathers but without any fust.

A big guinea-piece made out of gold Was the only money they had, I'm told: They rode and they rode but were two days late, And they missed the express so went by freight.

They shipped on a bant o'er the briny deep, Guinea-pig got sick and he cried, "Peep, peep!"

But Misses Hen found a great big book, And she said as she read with a long, deep look,

"There's a place called Guinea, right on the sea, Piggy-Wig, that's the place for you and me."

So she put on her hat, and the pig got his cant,

Teeth Beauty

Adds a premier charm

It comes by combating film

You who love beauty should learn this way to prettier teeth, if you don't know it now. That is one great beauty item.

Millions now use this method. You see the results today wherever you look. Now see them on your own teeth. Make this delightful test.

Film mars beauty

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it now. Under old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. Teeth thus lose their beauty and luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Under old methods, these film-caused troubles became almost universal.

Then dental science found two ways to fight film. One disintegrates the film. The other removes it.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Do this in justice to yourself. Cut out the coupon now.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combant which contains harsh grit.

Appeal To U. S. To Help
Europe Make Peace

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Oct. 16.—(By the A. P.)—An appeal for the United States to help Europe make peace was made here Monday by David Lloyd George, the wartime premier of Great Britain, in his first public address in this country after concluding his tour of Canada.

Speaking before many hundreds of persons at a luncheon given by the Minneapolis civic and commerce association, the former premier said: "I am not here on any mission, but let me say to you one thing, that until the United States of America with its mighty influence, with its great power, with the moral command which it has in the world, because of the past, with the great change that you won by coming into the war, without any selfish purpose but for a holy ideal, sending millions of your best young men across to fight for liberty and for nothing else—until this great land casts its influence into the scale of peace, I despair of the future."

Referring to a statement that Americans were doing their best to forget the recent World War, he urged that they do not forget. "There is nothing," he said, "for you to forget—nothing. There is something yes, something for you to be proud of. You came for naught but at the call of a great purpose and a great idea. It ought to be your pride. The part you took in it is one which is worthy of your greatest traditions. And my last word is that so far from forgetting that part, I trust that the United States of America will once more, in due time, in its own way, cast its great weight into the scales of peace."

Will Attend River Meet

Manager Adm. Frick of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday issued the following statement:

"The Chamber takes pleasure in advising that Mr. A. J. Singleton and Mr. Frank M. Baggs, members of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave for Cincinnati, Oct. 10, to attend the 20th annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, which convenes in the Queen City for their three day session, beginning the 17th.

"The importance of water way transportation to the nation, and especially to this section thereof, is self evident, and therefore should not be overlooked. The improvement of this water way to a practical daily use will take care of transportation equal to the movement of 300 trains per day, carrying an average of 50 cars each, with a tonnage of fifty per cent, would make for transportation that would equal 16M tons annually. This transportation is essential to the present day growth of our industrial activity.

"Then, following the standardization of this service in transportation, we are looking for a greater service from this constant flow of water in this great stream. The electrification of the Ohio Valley, lighting all of its communities and operating the vast amount of machinery in and about its cities, is possible by the waste now being placed under control. Thus, we will conserve a large amount of the nation's resources, its coal and timber now being consumed as fuel. We believe that this is but the second step in this great undertaking, that of controlling water ways and converting such to its greatest usefulness, and we look forward with hope to this great accomplishment.

"There should be no backward step taken in this great movement, but our activity should energize toward a policy of certain achievement. With our organization this progress would be slow indeed, and therefore we call for the best thought and the very highest degree of skill in bringing to the people of the present day, that which has long been thought impossible of achievement."

Favor U. S. Returning To Trade Relations With Russia

NEW YORK, October 16.—Three members of Congress who toured Russia this summer on their own initiative to study conditions at first hand, returned Monday on the Steamer Leviathan announcing they favored steps being taken by the United States to establish trade relations with Russia.

The three members of Congress were Senators Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, and King, Democrat, Utah, and Representative Frazier, Republican, Wisconsin. Albert A. Johnson, New York educator, was another member of the party.

Senator Ladd, acting as spokesman, issued the following statement as coming from all four:

"The members of commission are engaged in preparing a report dealing with conditions in Russia. This involves the examination of accumulated data and many volumes of statements and documents obtained. But it is expected that the commission will be ready to report within a short time.

"Until the commission has so reported the members have deemed it wise to refrain from expressing their views concerning Russia. They have, however, stated in a general way that they found conditions there better than reported by many persons and that they favor steps being taken by the United States looking to the establishment of trade relations with Russia."

Says Governors Should Enforce Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Taking direct issue with Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania on his suggestion that the President personally supervise prohibition enforcement, Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, in an address here last night declared he believed it the duty of the state of Pennsylvania "to exhaust all of its resources for the enforcement of the prohibition act before bringing the problem to the doorstep of the White House."

Mr. Allen spoke at a mass meeting of Methodist delegates to the citizenship conference before which Gov. Pinchot yesterday put prohibition enforcement up to the President. Mr. Allen made his address after he had had a long conference with President Coolidge.

"If I were the Governor of Pennsylvania and 1,300 bootleggers of Philadelphia had sent me word that they did not intend to obey the law of Pennsylvania," said Mr. Allen, "the next morning Philadelphia could be awakened by the revelling of a soldiers' brigade and that night they'd go to bed at soldiers' taps and every saloon would wear a padlock."

Duty of the States.

"The prohibition people of the United States should keep in mind the fact that it is the duty of the police powers of the several states to enforce prohibition in their respective states. The Federal power should be the last resource of had government in a local community."

Secretary Mellon also expressed his disagreement today with Gov. Pinchot's suggestion that the prohibition powers be made an independent establishment, responsible only to the President, declaring such a plan to be impracticable and unwelcome. Secretary Mellon believes the prohibition unit should be transferred from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice on the ground that enforcement of the law eventually devolves on the latter department through prosecution of violators.

Coal Gas Fumes Kill Vets, Is Belief

SANDESKY, Ohio, Oct. 16.—Eric county authorities last night were of the opinion that asphyxiation by coal gas fumes coming from a stove in the unventilated room, was the cause of the death of Samuel Harvey, 76, and Horace W. Upson, 77, Civil War veterans, whose bodies were found Sunday in a hut just outside the State Soldiers' Home grounds here. County officials indicated they had practically abandoned the foul play theory.

Bath Harvey and Upson were admitted to the Soldiers' Home from Cleveland. The men, apparently had been dead six days when their bodies were found.

Judge Is Indicted On Bribery Charge

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—County Judge John J. McMullen of Schenectady was indicted by the grand jury sitting at September term of Supreme Court Monday on charges of alleged bribery.

It is charged Judge McMullen supplied Assemblyman William J. Campbell, Republican candidate for Mayor of Schenectady, with $2,000 personal and $10,000 election expenses, with the understanding that Judge McMullen would induce Clarence W. Whitmyre, independent candidate for re-election for mayor, to withdraw from contest and that Assemblyman Campbell, if elected would appoint Mr. Whitmyre commissioner of public safety.

White Slavers Arrested

BERLIN, October 16.—Three alleged white slavers have been arrested by the German police in connection with the shipment of young women to the United States and Holland. One of the men known to the police as Charles Frank, is suspected of being the person for whom an incriminating letter, intercepted in a Berlin Hotel, was intended.

This letter signed with only a given name gives the information "that five girls came through and are safe. . . . I have sent them to San Francisco to the Blue Bird."

The letter said there was much trouble in getting through the police in Hamburg and that it was necessary to drug two of the girls.

Cornelius Ritter, a German, and a Hollander named Van Gulpen, arrested at Bremerich, on the Dutch border, are held on a charge of having lured 50 German girls into Holland upon representation that they would be given work there.

Crisis Exists In Free State Army

LONDON, Oct. 16.—An anonymous Irish correspondent of the Morning Post alleges that a dangerous crisis exists in the Free State Army. The statement says that for months past there has been an absolute cleavage from the top to the bottom of the army, but that now some of the principal officers are to be or have been court-martialed, having come out in open insubordination, in rebel action against the government.

The correspondent asserts that Minister of Home Affairs O'Higgins insists upon extreme measures and the removal of the mutinous officers but that they cannot be punished for fear of the consequences to the government. Meantime the troops will not act to enforce the collection of the 75 per cent arrears in rentals which the government has ordered collected within the next three weeks under the land act of 1922.

The writer concludes that the army is divided. Each side, he says, "feels confident that when the bell rings it will possess all the arms and ammunition."

The Morning Post is strongly unionist and is hostile to the Free State government.

MAY EXTEND BLACK FORK ROAD

IRONTON, Ohio, October 15.—An agent of the State Highway Department's office will be here this week to look over the Blackfork road and it is believed he will approve the plan of County Surveyor Clarence Massie, Auditor Davidson and County commissioners, Pinkerman and Robinson, to extend the road from Ironton to Lawrence Furnace next summer.

It was announced following a visit of the above-named officials to Columbus last week that Director Boulay had assured the county that 12 miles of road from the end of the improved road above Proctorville, to the Gallia County line would be allowed and constructed during the early spring.

Immediately the county officials turned the director's attention to the Blackfork road and he was greatly interested. He realizes that it is a main artery, leading from the river, by the shortest route into Columbus, and that it would be a greatly needed inter-county highway. Director Boulay promised immediate action and it is believed that he will approve the plans of the commissions, surveyor and Auditor to extend the highway to Lawrence Furnace. That would be one of the most welcome additions to the county's improved road system and would mark one of the most progressive steps in the state's program of joining up the main market highways.

Son Shoots Father, Probably Fatally

GALLIPOLIS, O., Oct. 16.—William Faulkner was shot and probably fatally wounded by his son, William, Jr., a railroad man, last night at Millersport when the father attempted to drive the son from home along with his two sisters.

The mother, seriously ill, had applied for divorce and charged her husband with having mistreated his two daughters. Young Faulkner gave himself up to the police.

Wolfenbarger Fined

GREENUP, Ky., October 16.—In court here Charlie Wolfenbarger, of Schultz, was fined $50 and costs by Judge Nichols, on a charge of intoxication.

The fact that coffee, in doses sufficient to produce any stimulating effect, raises blood pressure and stimulates the action of the kidneys is also good reason for using it with caution in these days of arterial strain and tendency to kidney affection. Heavy Buying Of Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Buying of the four Liberty issues of the U. S. Government featured the moderately active bond market in the early hours today. Advances one ranged from thirty second to seven thirty seconds a point. Scandinavian issues were somewhat heavier in sympathy with new issues for both Danish and Norwegian exchange. There was some buying of French bonds. More than ordinary interest was displayed in both railroad mortgages and industrial issues, a majority in each group establishing moderate gains.

Weakness Shown By Many Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Acute weakness of western railroad shares on publication of Washington dispatches that President favored a reduction of freight rates on grain brought about another sharp reaction in price in today's stock market. Many of the western carriers sold at new low records for the year. Several specialties also broke sharply on unfavorable dividend reports. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Short covering operations were again in evidence at the opening of today's stock market and the general list displayed a firm tone. United States Steel Iron Pipe advanced a point and United States and Bethlehem Steel, Du Pont and American Can opened fractionally higher.

Curb Market Continues Irregular

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The market on the curb exchange today was irregular in tone and movement. A few stocks made advances, but the majority of the list after a display of strength in some groups moved downward during the later trading. The leading positions of the various issues, however, except in a few instances, were not materially changed.

Park and Tilford continued the prominent feature, advancing over two points to above 31, making a new high record, but reacted over one point strong, advancing three points.

A number of the Standard Oil issues were in good demand during the hour but generally recorded losses. Standard Oil of New Jersey started with a gain of one point which was followed by a reaction and Standard Oil of Indiana on large transactions first rose to a point to 56 1/2. A supply of stock met on that movement in which the fractional gain at the start and the fall off.

Slight Changes In Grain Market

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—Only fractional changes took place in the wheat market today during the early dealings. Most of the trade was of a local character, with neither side having any special advantage. Fearish crop estimates from Argentina were circulated, but failed to make much impression.

Remember?

It isn't such a far stretch for memory to recall the day when you had to wait for a long, clear, cold spell of weather before you could have sausage.

Today?

No wait for weather or seasons. Just telephone your meat dealer.

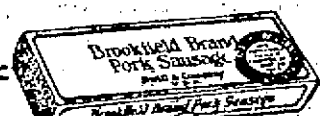

The delightful tang of October days is made more zestful by a breakfast of Brookfield sausage, made from the choicest morsels of carefully selected pork, blended with spices.

Now For Big Match Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—With the "World's Series" out of the way, the attention of the sporting world today is focused upon the international $100,000 match race next Saturday afternoon at Belmont Park between Papyrus, the English derby winner, and Zev, America's champion three year old. The interest in the event will be intensified today by the arrival of Steve Donoghue, England's greatest jockey, who will ride the English entry.

Donoghue will arrive on the Olympia tomorrow morning. Papyrus, the first foreign horse to be sent to this country for a great international event is well acclimated, and reported to be in excellent condition. Zev has also undergone an intensive training and will be fit, according to his trainers, when Earl Sande, recognized as America's leading jockey, rides him to the barrier.

Illinois Looks Strong

There is a loud "meow" in that Purdue-Iowa game for a lot of Conference coaches. It gave the opportunity to guess whether Purdue is exceptionally strong or whether Iowa has shaded off. Perhaps both suppositions are partly true. Iowa hardly could hope to keep up its great efficiency of 1922 with so many green men, and Purdue has improved no doubt. The case of Iowa will be pretty definitely settled next Saturday when that coming team of Illinois performers will battle the Hawkeyes. Ohio State will be deeply interested in this result, for both teams are to be met by the Scarlet and Gray. By the way, Illinois is almost certain to make a fine showing the season through and come to Columbus a hot foe for Nov. 24.

WILL KIPKE SHINE NEXT SATURDAY?

Harvey Miller in the Columbus Dispatch says: One of the interesting situations to be watched at Ann Arbor next Saturday is whether Kipke will be able to travel with such startling efficiency as he did last year, when he had the great Cappon in help clear the path for him, and Kirk and Roby also were added factors in his offensive success. Kipke hasn't been going so nicely in any of the preliminary games against Case and Vanderbilt, and this big question will remain to be answered against Ohio State or some of the succeeding conference foes. We are not hinting, even, that Kipke isn't a great halfback. But great halfbacks can be greater even with proper assistance. So we are wondering whether there are those in the Michigan backfield who can replace Cappon and his other 1922 path cleaners even approximately.

Wittenberg To Dedicate Stadium

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 16.—One of the features of the dedication of Wittenberg's new $70,000 stadium and the star game between Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan, Oct. 20, will be the dropping of a football onto the field by J. Lynn Gover, Wittenberg's '12, who is now supervisor of lubrication of all army planes, with headquarters at Wilbur Wright field, Dayton. Gover will also do aerial stunts.

Oil Keeps Stabborn Hair Combed Best

Just plain glistera oil beats anything you can use for keeping stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair combed; and it gives the hair that neat, naturally glossy, refined effect. Glistera oil is not sticky or greasy. It does not show on the hair or leave it stiff and artificial looking as waxy pastes and creams do. Just rub a little through your hair, once or twice a week and it will make your hair so soft and pliable, it will stay in place, any style you comb it. You can get glistera oil at most any drug store. A two ounce bottle will last for months.—advertisement.

Clash Saturday

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—Two inveterate rivals will clash here Saturday in a game that may decide the Catholic college championship of Ohio when St. Xavier College and John Carroll University meet here in the annual football game. St. Xavier and Carroll, with the University of Dayton, compose the "Big Three" in state Catholic college football. The Saints meet only Carroll this season, while Dayton and Carroll will play November 2 at Cleveland.

St. Xavier has held this championship for three years and will make a tremendous effort to retain the honors for the fourth successive time.

Up To League Directors

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 16.—Upon a single disputed play rests the pennant hopes of the Zanesville Mark Greys and the Coshocton Regulars in the Eastern Ohio baseball League.

Directors of the league will meet at Newark, October 22, to discuss the play and award the pennant. In the last inning of the final game between Coshocton and Zanesville, September 23, the Zanesville catcher stepped astride home plate while a batter was in the box, apparently in an effort to throw out one of the Coshocton base runners. The batter stepped forward and tapped the ball, advancing safely to first. A runner on third scored. Empire Keith Lowery ruled the catcher's act an interference and counted the score of the runner on third, which gave Coshocton the game and the league leadership. Zanesville protested the umpire's decision. President Scott of the league upheld the protest. Coshocton denied that Scott had authority to overrule the decision of an umpire. The play was submitted to assistant secretary Foster of the National Baseball Commission who upheld the umpire's decision. And now it's up to the league directors.

Coolidge Suggests Freight Rate Reduction On Wheat For Export

WASHINGTON, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge suggested today to Samuel Hays, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, that a freight rate reduction be put into effect by the railroads on wheat destined for export and that railroads institute the same rate on export coal as on coal for domestic use.

The suggestions were made by the president to Mr. Hays at a White House conference and the Pennsylvania executive probably will consider them in conjunction with executives of other larger railroads. Like his predecessors, Presidents Wilson and Harding, President Coolidge is adverse to carrying out the directions of congress, embodied in the merchant marine act of 1920 that commercial treaties preventing the United States from instituting preferential freights be abrogated.

In proposing that the same rates apply on coal destined for export as on coal for domestic consumption, Mr. Coolidge directed attention to protests received from New York and New England that the railroads were carrying coal through their states to Canadian points at a lower rate than was given coal consigned to consumers and dealers in those sections.

While recognizing that perhaps the lower export rate might be decided on sound economic reasoning, the president told Mr. Hays it was not likely in his opinion to promote good feeling. With reference to reduction of the shipping rate on export the president said he felt that such action by the railroads would be helpful in the wheat situation and would prove a wise policy for the railroads to undertake at the present juncture.

Although the suggestions were presented solely to Mr. Hays, the president believes that whatever action the Pennsylvania might take after study of the matter would be followed by the other railroads concerned in the shipment of export wheat and coal.

Court House

Taken Under Advisement.

Evidence and arguments of the counsel were heard by Judge Will P. Stephenson in Common Pleas court Tuesday in the case of Andrew J. Fannin and Elsie Fannin James E. Hannah, local real estate dealer, and then the case was taken under advisement by the court.

The suit was brought by the plaintiffs seeking cancellation of a deed to a house and lot in New Boston made last September in exchange, under the terms of a verbal agreement, for 88 acres of land in Harrison township.

Attorney J. T. Micklethwait for plaintiffs claimed that the deal was never consummated by an exchange of deeds and insisted that his clients were entitled to the relief sought. Attorney C. M. Seard for Hannah in his opening statement day he admitted he was mistaken and that the charge was unfounded and untrue. As a result of the retractions, the $50,000 damage claim for alleged libel made by Hannah in his cross-petition, was dropped.

Snyder Seeks Divorce.

John Snyder, charges neglect, cruelty and infidelity in his suit for divorce and custody of their minor son filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday against Bethel Snyder, 3704 Stanton avenue, New Boston, whom he married in December, 1914.

Plaintiff in his petition filed through Attorney Walter L. Dickey says that the defendant frequently left their home and neglected him and their child and declares that she repeatedly admitted to him her associations with other men and that she did not care for him.

Made Ward Of Court.

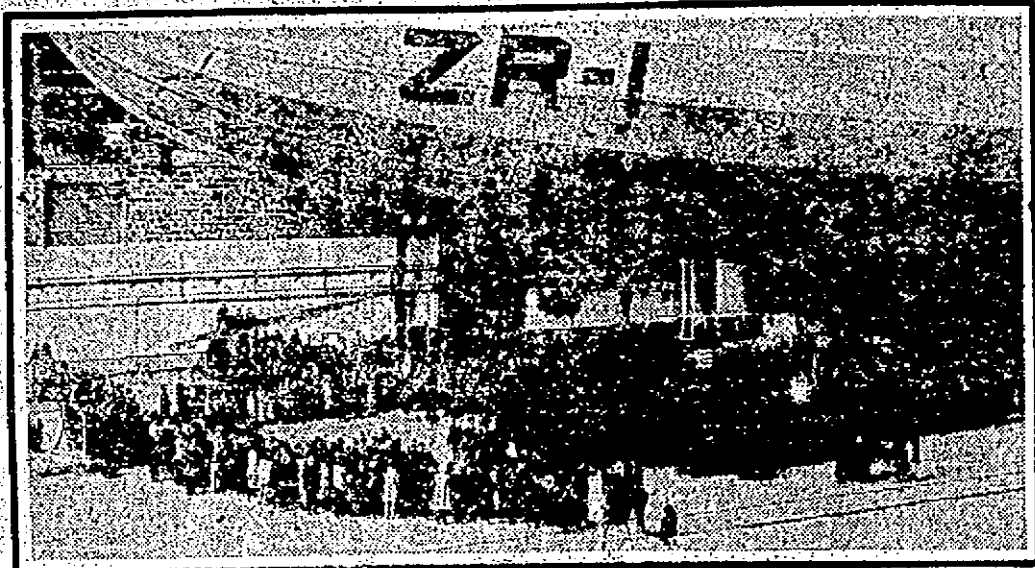

Madeline Clark, 17 year old, colored, was adjudged a delinquent at a hearing in juvenile court Tuesday and she was made a ward of the court by Judge Gilman and given to the custody of Mrs. Ellen Berkley, 1114 Chillicothe street. The complaint against the girl, filed by Arthur Gardner, alleged that she was incorrigible and guilty of immoral conduct.

Signal by Invisible Light.
The use of invisible light for signaling in warfare has been demonstrated before the Physical Society of London by an expert in such matters. According to the reports, the first machine shown was a signaling lamp that gave a beam of light so narrow that in many circumstances it would insure secrecy. When it becomes desirable to avoid showing any light whatever filters are employed to cut out the visible spectrum. By day a deep red filter, transmitting only the extreme red rays of light is placed in front of the lamp. The light is invisible to the observer unless he has a similar red screen to cut out the daylight. With the screen he can see enough to read signals at a distance of six miles. The next screen is used that transmits only the ultra-violet rays of light.

Dry Law Violators Fined

Violon Pertusset, of Third street, was fined $100 and costs by Squire George S. Morgan yesterday after she had admitted guilt of violation of the dry law by possession of liquor following her arrest by Federal Agent F. W. Tucker when he visited her home and seized a small quantity of the forbidden fluid, according to his report. She arranged to pay and was released.

Four of the six liquor offenders apprehended in an automobile on a West side road by Federal Agent F. W. Tucker were penalized in Squire George S. Morgan's court yesterday. The officer seized a half gallon of "hooch" which the men had in the machine, he claims. Van Wright, owner of the automobile, drew a fine of $300 and costs and John Holbrook Piffie and Victor Lyon were taxed $100 and costs each for possession. No charges were pressed against Edgar Boland and Julian Bantee, two others of the party. The quartet, fined languish at the county jail for lack of funds to pay up. Taken into custody yesterday by county officers when caught toting about a cargo of "white mule," Jack Wolfe was ordered to pay a fine of $200 and costs, by Squire Morgan, on being taken before the magistrate.

George Horner was the name given by a man arrested yesterday by county officer for operating his motorcycle while intoxicated and Squire Morgan fined him $25

Mobs Storm

Meninging Demonstration By Hungry BERLIN. October 16.—(By the United Press)—Five thousand hungry unemployed stormed the main city hall near Alexander Platz today in one of the most menacing demonstrations since the food shortage became so acute.

At least ten are known to have been wounded in the rush when police cordons advanced on the mob and drove the most daring of the demonstrators five blocks from the building.

Still determined, the crowds rushed to the bourse, where brokers were seen hurriedly leaving the building and seeking refuge in less conspicuous places.

Wilhelm strasse was closed today as a precautionary measure.

Disturbances are reported in several parts of the capital, particularly in Neu Koeln where three were wounded in food riots.

Food riots brought frequent clashes between mobs and police throughout the country today. Shots fired over the heads of a hundred hungry unemployed in the northern section of Berlin dispersed them without bloodshed.

In the suburb of Schenbourg police fired their bayonets prepared to charge when 500 unemployed surrounded the city hall in their demand for advanced payment of the unemployment dole.

Crowds broke into bakeries in Weiden strasse, Thomas strasse and Hermann strasse and looted them for food.

Police in Harlt, according to dispatches received here, were helpless against the hungry pressing crowd and occupation troops had to be called out using billy clubs and firing warning shots to clear the streets.

Timely arrests of leaders prevented serious consequences from food riots in Koenigsburg, where police cordons were maintained.

The Frankfurt Grain Exchange closed after threats had been made against the grain operators.

As an example to the country, President Ebert notified the treasurer he would relinquish all his expense money for October.

His salary for this month was fixed at one hundred and fifty milliard marks and his expenses, at a similar dollar rate, were to be about four milliard marks.

His renunciation is considered to be a great sacrifice, as, despite the free rent and the allowances, the president's income barely covers his needs.

Hearings On Charges That Armour Move A Monopoly

WASHINGTON, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Floorings on Secretary Wallace's complaint that the acquisition by Armour and Company, of the meat packing plant business of Morris and Company, would constitute a monopoly and restrain interstate and foreign commerce, in violation of the packers and stock yards act, were resumed here today before Chester Morrill, assistant to the secretary and officer in charge of the packers and stock yards administration. Formal proceedings in the case were instituted by a complaint issued February 26 by Secretary Wallace, and hearings subsequently were held at Kansas City, East St. Louis, South Omaha and Chicago.

Today's session and those of the next few days will be devoted by the government to bringing its case to a close with the introduction of evidence principally of a statistical nature. After a recess of a week or two, hearings will be held, probably in Chicago, to permit the packing companies to present their evidence. Closing arguments then will be heard here by Secretary Wallace before he determines what action shall be taken.

In case of an order against the merger, the order could be taken before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago, for judicial decision, a decree of that court being final except for review by the Supreme Court of the United States.

A joint celebration with Portsmouth and Tronton Chambers taking part has been suggested.

Persuasion.

Any woman can make any man do anything, if she can only persuade him that he is doing something really dashing and darded. But I admit it also takes a clever woman to persuade a man that there is something dashing and darded in attending a village church.

I never had the bump of ambition. As long as a woman loves her husband, and has enough to eat, I can't see that it matters in what order she walks out of a drawing room.—From "The Lower Pool," by Ellen Thornercroft Fowler.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with indigestion? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain.

McGRAW CLAN BEATEN WHEN NEHF COLLAPSED; FIGURES ON THE BIG SERIES

Yanks To Get Over $6,000 Each; Giants Over $4,000

NEW YORK, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—His left arm weakened from overwork, his mind weary from the strain of out-thanking, out-witting, Artie Nehf, McGraw's last pitching ace, collapsed yesterday in the eighth inning of the sixth world's series game and the New York Yankees rode to triumph and their first world championship. They overcame a three run lead to win the game six to four and the series four games to two.

The Yankees, baffled through the early innings by this pitching wizard, Nehf, entered the eighth three runs behind, and it seemed certain that the Giants would win the game, square the series and necessitate a seventh game to decide the championship. Aaron Ward, the Yankee second baseman, whose bat has been busied of all during the series, was first at bat in that inning.

He hit a high one that was gathered in by First Baseman Kelly and Nehf still appeared strong. Only two hits had been made in his delivery then, one of them Ruth's home run in the first inning. Then Schang went to bat, hit the first ball pitched to left for a safety. Everett Scott next—not a dangerous batter—yet he hit a single down first base line. Schang went to third, Miller Huggins' brain began to work. Hoffman was sent to pinch hit for Pennock, the pitcher. On fourth straight, Miller Huggins walked. Bases full. Joe Bush went to bat, pinch hitting for Witt. Four straight balls, all inside; one run forced in.

Nehf, head bowed, saw the danger. John McGraw leaped from the dugout, a single, then he snatched his glove into his hip pocket and stole from the box. "Here's" Ryan pitching. Dugan, the Yankee third baseman, up. Dugan walked. Again on four straight balls. Another run forced in.

Yankees one run behind. A long series of cheers and shouts from the stands—Babe Ruth at bat. The crowd calling for a home run, a single, anything for that one run to tie. But the Babe, the mightiest batter of them all, struck out. A moan from the stands. Bob Meusel at bat. Two out, the bases still full. Meusel's bat cracked the ball to center field for a single. Two runners crossed the plate. Cunningham, striking the ball threw wildly to third and another run counted then scoring ended there. And so did the series. John McGraw's great baseball machine was broken down by the sustained attack of the Yankee men. Every pitcher on McGraw's staff tried and failed to check the batting streak of the American League champions. In the very first game John Watson was bitten from the box by the Yankee sluggers. The Giants won that game, however, partly through bad luck experienced by Waite Hoyt, they outlasted the Yankees and a surprise home run by Casey Stengel in the ninth. The score was 5 to 4. Stengel's homer proving the margin of victory.

The second game, won by the Yankees 4 to 2, saw another Giant pitcher, Hugh McQuillan, put to rout. Pennock pitched that game for the Yankees, Arthur "Red" Tynes of the Yankees, by virtue of Casey Stengel's second home run, the only score of the game. Casey thus had won almost single-handed two games for the Giants.

The fourth game Bob Shawkey won for the Yankees 8 to 4. In this contest the Yankees knocked out John Scott, routed McQuillan for the second time, and battered three other Giant twirlers. In the fifth game, another Yankee victory by 8 to 1, Jack Bentley, the southpaw, brought from Baltimore for a princely sum, felt the sting of Yankee blows and had to be relieved. Scott, Virgil Barnes and Jannard were used after Scott's only "hitler" dependable hurler of the staff, succeeded for seven and one-third innings, only to go the way of his mates in the end.

Ryan got credit for winning the first game for the Giants and a defeat was chalked against Joe Bush, who had relieved Hoyt and off whose delivery Stengel hit his homer. Pennock won the second game, McQuillan being the loser. Nehf won the third game from Jones; Shawkey won the fourth game from John Scott; Bush took the fifth from Bentley and Pennock the deciding contest from Nehf.

In the six games the Giants, 202 times at the bat, scored 17 runs off 47 hits, of which five were home runs, three three base hits and two two baggers. Their batting average was .235. The Yankees, 205 times at bat made 30 runs, sixty hits, including eight two baggers, four three baggers and five home runs for a batting average of .293. The Yankees drew twenty bases on balls, the Giants only 12.

Babe Ruth scored the most runs in the series, eight. The Babe made seven hits in 20 times at bat, was walked eight times, struck out five times and batted in three runs. His batting average was .368. Aaron Ward, of the Yankees, and Frank Frisch, of the Giants, rival second basemen, collected the most hits, getting ten each. One of Frisch's blows was a three bagger and one of Ward's a home run.

The total attendance for the six games of the series, 301,430, eclipsed by more than 30,000 the previous attendance record set in the world's series of 1921 between the same teams. The receipts for the six games also set a new record, being $1,063,815, passing the million dollar mark for the first time and eclipsing the previous record set in 1921 by over $100,000.

The largest crowd of the series and the largest of all time attended the fifth game played at Yankee stadium

Sunday. The paid admissions numbered 62,817 that day and more than fifty thousand persons were turned away from the gates. "The players' pool was greater by more than $100,000 than any other, and as a result each player of the winning team will receive about $6,500, and each losing player about $4,300. Each second place club will receive about $27,208 and each third place club about $18,139.

WORKMAN SHINES
Cut out another niche in the Ohio State Hall of Fame for Harry Workman of Huntington, W. Va. Or, rather, cut deeper the one he already occupies. Every time a football candidate at Ohio State gets away for more than 10 yards he is immediately compared with Chic Harley. "This is as it should be for, undoubtedly, Harley is the greatest player who ever wore the scarlet and gray."

Stribling Showin g Not Impressive

DETROIT, October 15.—Young Stribling, the nineteen-year-old Georgia school boy, programmed as the "light heavyweight champion of the world," fought a tame 10-rounds with Tommy Burns, of Detroit, here last night. Most of the newspapermen at the ringside gave Stribling semi-wind-up.

"Tut" Wants Palmer To Show "Figgers"

Palmer has not been managing Jackson's pugilistic affairs for several weeks.

Games Featured By Scintillating Plays

NEW YORK, October 16.—(By the Associated Press)—All six games of the world's series that came to a close yesterday with the New York Yankees' triumph over the Giants, sparkled with brilliant fielding and spectacular feats.
"Jumping Joe" Dugan, crack third sacker, of the Yankees, and Frisch, the "Fordham Flash," were the most speed, in center field and then, with an unerring throw, caught Ruth, who made a daring attempt to score at the plate.

These are the outstanding fielding features of the series.
FIRST GAME—Frisch's catch of Meusel's fly to short center and throw to Snyder at plate, doubling Ruth; Kelly's stop of Ruth's smash and to short Dugan at plate.

SECOND GAME—Dugan's stop of Kelly's ground drive on third base line and toss out at first.

THIRD GAME—Groh's diving catch off Scott's hot ground hit and put out of Ward at third base.

FOURTH GAME—Dugan's jumping one-handed catch of Bancroft's line drive and completion of double play by catching Bentley off first.

FIFTH GAME—Young's leaping, one-handed catch of Pipp's terrific liner on embankment in front of right field.

SIXTH GAME—Frisch's running catch of Dugan's leaping fly in short right field and remarkable stop of Schang's terrific ground smash over second base.

Good, old Notre Dame. If ever, the West had a team of which it could be proud it's this same bunch of ecclectic dancers who never knew when to quit. Army this year boasts of the best team in history, a team with nine ex-collegiate players on its roster. Notre Dame has not, to date, an outstanding star. But they'll have one or two before the season is over.

ALL ARE NOW AGREED

THE agricultural federation and the state grange have issued an appeal to farmers to give their vote to the workingmen's compensation amendment, the first proposal on the constitutional ballot. This brings all of the organized interests of the state, agricultural, manufacturing and labor, to the support of the bill.

It would seem scarcely necessary but there can be no stating that the so-called workingmen's compensation act was written into the statutes by the joint action of organized industry and union labor. Its object was two-fold, to save industry from harassment and to secure for every workingman insurance, compensation, against the accidents of his occupation.

Under the old system, if a laborer was injured at work he had to sue his employer for damages. As a first step he had to hire an attorney, and agree to pay him half of the damages recovered, and then had to wait for months and even years to recover his damages, even if he eventually got judgment.

This bred a lot of legal chicanes, known as ambulance chasers, conscienceless lawyers, who, as soon as they heard of an accident victim, hunted him up and offered him a guarantee of big money. Manufacturers met this condition by liability insurance. The policy of the insurance companies was to resist every claim to the extent possible.

Under the old law, if the person suing for accident was himself responsible for it, or his employer was not to blame, he could get no damages.

On the whole while the employer was harassed by law suits, it was the workman that suffered the most. The workman's compensation act, however, changed the common law, to the mutual benefit of laborer and employer and also to the satisfaction of both.

The state conducted an insurance system of its own. Employers paid into it to the number of laborers employed and the hazards of their employment. It stopped law suits. If an employee was injured his case went to the state board. It allowed him compensation for loss of wages and for injuries received. He got this whether he was at fault or not.

But the supreme court now comes along and upsets all this. It says the laborer needn't pay any attention to the law. He can sue. The ambulance chasers are jubilant. To this condition the employer answers if he doesn't get any protection, he will pay no more to the state for insurance. Thus the best law the state ever had is nullified.

The farmer is interested because he employs labor. He together with others who love fairness and justice between men, should vote for the constitutional amendment.

THE HONOR ALL HIS

COLUMBUS Day, occurring on the 12th, was taken occasion of to fulminate many an opinion on the discovery of America. Some papers, and curiously enough one school history, that appears to have some vague, would fitch from the great Italian credit for the discovery and at the same time acquire somewhat of a reputation for learning on their own part by alleging America was quite well known to the Norsemen.

It doesn't detract from the achievement of Columbus that he died in the belief, acquired when he first sighted land, that he had proven his theory and reached the western side of Asia; while it is no honor at all to the mythical Norsemen that, having found so rich a continent, they let all knowledge of it pass away.

Columbus of all the great scientists and navigators had the enterprise and boldness to demonstrate his belief that the earth was round and new lands could be reached by sailing westward. How he evolved this latter conception, no one knows. He had no chartered course, but solitary and alone he had to find his way across the mysterious deep, which romance had peopled with a thousand terrors of ignorance and superstition.

In a sort of a way it is unfortunate that these continents did not take a name perpetuating the fame of their discoverer, rather than that of a hardy seaman, who did discover the sailing course to Asia, but it doesn't matter. The name of Columbus is inseparably connected with that of America and the honor of original discovery will never be stolen from him.

One man's poison is another man's meat. Japan, as a result of the earthquake, is going to require enormous quantities of building material. She is trying to place a loan in America to equip herself with buying power.

Washington, chuckling to itself, sends out word that the administration will take no notice of Lloyd George's proposal of a union between England and the United States, because it is not an official suggestion. Of course not, got to see which way the cat jumps first.

And the team that everybody said couldn't win did. That's just a way things have of doing, like the slowest horse coming in first. Incidentally, it is the thing too that causes a lot of money to change hands. It wouldn't be so bad if it wasn't for the telling afterwards of why it didn't happen.

SAY, NEIGHBOR, YOU'VE BEEN GOING ON A TOOT WITH THAT CORNET HERE NIGHT AFTER NIGHT. I'VE COME OVER TO TELL YOU THAT WHEN I WANT TO GET THIN TO MUSIC.

I'LL CHOOSE THE INSTRUMENT AND THE TUNES!!!

New York=Day=By=Day

BY O. O. M. (INTYRE)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Mammoth army of home-going commuters offers a close-up of varying types. There is a neighborhood among them from frequent contact. Bridge players congregate in the smoker as do those of pressing matters who carry stenographers for dictation.

The lady in front of me discusses something in whispers to her friend across the aisle. She has been reading, for you hear her: "Ten pounds in a month, and such a relief!" At my side is a serious looking young fellow thrilling to an ad: "How to increase your income."

The Vanderbilt gentleman secretary preens his intimate adornment in a hand mirror. He quickly hides the mirror when an acquaintance brushes the subject of golf. He is a rotten golfer. No golfer ever admitted he is good except to himself.

The knickerbockered man is reading a comic weekly. He is the kind of a fellow who asks the conductor so "all" may hear: "How's every little thing today?" He can also nap and awaken at his station without being called and he'll tell you all about it any time.

An elderly lady is frustrated about a draft. The brakeman tries to close the window with the usual result. He doesn't budge it. Two stations out the man who discovered he's on the wrong train asks fondly for the president of the road. He's going to write a nasty letter. Perhaps he may sue.

The sweet young thing in a diabolical creation is explaining to her friend that her town car is in the shop. She has lived in Mount Vernon ten years, but it is the first time she ever commuted. "After four years' experience," she adds, "I'm a conductor howed to her knowledge."

At various stations mothers and children in swimming togs sit in automobiles waiting for heads of families. They take father to the beach and let him hold the Pom on the leash while they disport in the wild waves. Father asks fondly for the president of the road. He's going to write a nasty letter. Perhaps he may sue.

Not all the four flushers live in New York. A few keep in from the hinterland. In my hotel, for instance, the maid tells me a patron arrives in town with his wife twice a year. He rents a six room apartment upon his arrival and invites all those whom he wishes to impress to call and have tea. After six o'clock he gives up five of the rooms and he and his wife remain for several days in a single bedroom. He complains while visitors are there that he feels so cramped living in a half dozen rooms.

The New York speak-ong, differs from the British big-bird in its stables, luncheon yards and where not. One merely goes here to what has the appearance of being an ordinary room.

What He Intended "My dear," said the newly-married man to his wife, "where did all these books on astronomy come from? They are not ours."

"A pleasant little surprise for you," remarked the wife. "You know, my dear, you said this morning that we ought to study astronomy; and so I went to the bookshop and bought everything I could on the subject."

"It was some minutes before he spoke," "My dear," he said then, his voice husky with emotion, "I never said we must study astronomy; I said we must study economy."

"Is there no hope, doctor; is there no hope?"

"That depends, madam, on what you are hoping for," said the doctor, reaching for his hat.
